

Internship, graphic design (m/f) 100% from 01 April 2021 Breitling SA

Job description:

In spite of the contrasting times, we at Breitling have a continuing good order situation. We are therefore looking for a talented graphic designer who is passionate about detail and wants to start his career in the Swiss watch industry. A dynamic, friendly and international product design team awaits you.

You will be able to gain deep insights into the design process of the watch industry, move between different departments and get to know the company structure as well as actively support the design team.

Reliability, creativity and a good use of the Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop programs are very important to us in order to be able to work on the following tasks.

- Creating designs for our special productions.
- Creation of technical drawings, to be forwarded to our technical office.
- Developing your own design project for use in the portfolio.
- Maintenance and development of in-house fonts.

After your time as an intern, you have a realistic chance of getting a permanent position at Breitling.

Your expertise should include the following points.

- A degree in visual communication, graphic design or a comparable course of study.
- Very good knowledge of the software mentioned, Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop.
- French fluently and good English knowledge.

From: 01. April 2021
